Residents Up In Arms Over "Foul Air"

BIG SPECIAL MEETING AUG. 8

The Board of Selectmen met Monday evening to sign the warrant for the special Town Meeting to be held August 8.

Zoning changes; proposed sales of land; four articles relative to tying in with the MDC sewerage line; and the two school proposals are most controversial of the articles.

Article 1. asks for transfer of funds under Chapter 718 for permanent construction of Chandler and Kelley Rds., and Meadow Lane.

Article 2. asks to allow the Selectmen to grant licenses for Sunday. Article 3 asks permission to tow cars hindering snow removal.

Articles 4, 5, 6 and 7 asks for a tie-in with the MDC Sewerage lines in Woburn; a sewerage line, and pumping, metering retention and other equipment along Woburn St., Brentwood and Woodside Aves., and permission to enter into a contract with AVCO for reimbursement or partial reimbursement of payment.

Article 8 asks purchase of a spreader body; Article 9 permission to sell an area on or near Salem St., to J.J. Cronin; Article 10 to sell a parcel of land on Adams St.

Article 11 is the first one on petition of an outside agency, the others being proposed by the Selectmen. Article 11 asks approval of the Housing Project for the Elderly, requested by the Housing Authority.

Article 12, on petition of George W. Lynch, Jr., asks re-zoning of the area along Andover St., from the Clark property to the Andover line, 13 asks re-zoning of a section on the corner of Woburn and Lowell Sts. To allow enlargement of the grocery store owned by John Luccl. 14 asks amendment of the zoning by-laws to extend the General Business zone in the area of Main Wisser, Dewey, Hobson and Miles St. On petition of Wil son Rice.

Article 15 asks exchange of a right of way strip by Edward Neilson near the proposed Glen Rd. school.

Article 16 asks to rescind the vote of March 1957 in regard to the Glen Rd. school while 17 asks to see what amount the town will raise to construct the same school.

Article 18 requests an appropriation for the construction of an addition or extension to the present Jr. Sr. High School building.

Article 19 asks for rezoning of land on Salem St., above Martins Brook to the North Reading line from Single Residence A to Industrial.

Article 20, the final one is to hear the reports of Committees and act thereon.

ST. DOROTHY'S FESTIVAL JULY 31 TO AUGUST 3

Final preparations have been made for the annual festival of St. Dorothy's parish from July 31 to August 3. Additional attractions have been arranged for this particular week so that this year's affair will be bigger and better than ever. The Midway will feature such rides as a Ferris Wheel, Merry-go-round, Chair-o-plane and many kiddy rides. There will be booths with dolls, candy, toys and groceries, and a giant Blitz tent with hundreds of dollar worth of fine prizes.

Cash attendance prize will be awarded Wednesday Thursday, and Friday nights Saturday night's feature will be the drawing of a power lawn mower, an electric fan and a barbecue outfit.

Saturday afternoon there will be special matinee for the children at reduced prices. Excellent refreshments will be available throughout the festival.

RAFT DUE TO BE REPLACED IN WATER AT BEACH

Good news for swimmers at the Town Beach is word that the raft, beached for some time for safety's sake (and to protect it from vandalism) will soon be back in the water.

Due to the efforts of Frank Hagerty of the Selectmen, Danny Gillis of the Planning Board, and Larry Cushing of the Recreation Dept., and the generosity of some local firms, as soon as work is completed and some skin divers find the moorings the raft will be back in place.

Complaints that the raft was easily tipped have been solved by the forming of one large raft from two small ones. Materials donated by Greer's have helped in this end, and the donation of some of their special "skid-proof" paint by Raffi an Swanson will put the finishing touches on the sorely missed raft.

OBNOXIOUS ODORS ENGULF SOUTH WILMINGTON

The residents of the south-east corner of Wilmington, are once again up in arms about the odors which permeate the neighborhood to such an extent at some times that residents are nearly nauseated. Commonest subject over the fence, on the corner and on the party line is "the smell".

While for years traces of odors has been annoying the residents of the area, it has become much stronger and much oftener in the past two or three years, coinciding with an influx of building in the area. The residents of Sunnycrest Acres and of Woburn St., where another small colony of new homes has been erected have therefore been victims of the nauseous onslaught ever since they moved to the country for nice, clean, fresh air.

Checking yesterday with the Boards of Health in Woburn and Reading, the Crusader found that much is being done in an effort to track down and end the annoyance. Mr. Waldren, Health Inspector of Woburn, informed us that the State Dept. of Public Health has men at work now in the area seeking the source of the odor. Most generally blamed is the Woburn Processing Co., who bought a cat food factory just over the Wilmington line from General Foods a few years ago. Since the odor has become increasingly worse since the purchase, they are most commonly accused. A fertilizer plant in the vicinity does not process fish, which is the description of the odor by most smellers.

A call to the Reading Board of Health brought the information that calls were being referred to the Police Dept. for a count which would then be given to the Selectmen in the usual report. The police reported on receipt of a call all they are empowered to do is go down and take a smell, which is not solving anything. The complaints in Reading are most commonly had from the West St. area, also the scene of much new building in recent years.

Mr. Waldren told us he would call and let us know the results of the State investigation as soon as he received it.

In the meanwhile, interviews of residents of the affected area were summed up by one lady on Woburn St. When asked her opinion of the situation she replied in no uncertain terms, "It stinks".

"Witness for the Prosecution" by Agatha Christie is the current stage production at Guy Palmerton's famous Lake Whalom Playhouse at Fitchburg. The production features a cast of 26 professional players headed by Thom Conroy and Elsbeth Hofmann.

A penetrating story of a murder trial, the production ran for two solid years on Broadway and recently closed a coast to coast tour. Staged by Robert Perry, the play is expertly portrayed in a manner to please every playgoer. Drama, Comedy and Pathos are all included in this great thriller.

Playgoers are urged to take an immediate interest in the productions at Lake Whalom if they are sincere in their desire to maintain a professional Summer Theatre in our area.

Patrons should realize the importance of a constant and discriminating audience. The productions at Whalom have indeed been professional in every detail. Considerable effort has been put into the 1957 season to bring Broadway to Whalom. Up to this point, every audience has been enthusiastic about the productions, but not enough public response has been evident to warrant continuance of this worthy theatrical project. It is therefore, the duty of every playgoer to take immediate heed and lend support to the wonderful season at the Lake Whalom Playhouse.

The box office is open daily to accept reservations.

Investigate unfamiliar waters before swimming in them, advises the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company. If possible, talk with someone who is familiar with your contemplated swimming area. Obey any warning signs posted in the area.

FIRE FEEDS ON CARELESS DEEDS

W. F. A. HI-LITES

Once again I'm here to visit with you. I'm afraid there isn't too much news to pass on except that Geo. has returned from his vacation in Nova Scotia and Charlie is also back in harness after his, and by the time this appears I'll be on my own vacation.

The state has closed the woods and as a result, the permits in town have been cancelled and any type of open fire is banned even in incinerators and fire places.

The fire down on Woburn St., has at last got to a stage where the boys at the station can take a well deserved breather. At least until all the hose is ready to be pulled out of the area.

Don't know what happened to the fishing trip, but if plans are still in the making, I have about six men's names who wish to go.

Hats off to Hal Foley of the Shamrock for thinking of the boys during the recent fires. Thanks from all the boys Hal.

The rain-makers are in Tewksbury, but so far the rain we've had, hasn't even penetrated into the woods, so I'll ask you again to please use caution and your ash tray when travelling, as a tossed lited cigarette can cause a real serious fire with the woodlands so dry.

Here I will insert a note to ask you whenever you call the station, unless it is to report a fire, will you please use the business phone, the number is OL 8-3346. The other phone is an Emergency Phone and it is to be used only in such a case, to report a fire, accident or some similar happening. That number is 8-3200.

Well, so much for this week, see you again next week.

Your Friendly Fire Fighter.

"THE LIONS ROAR"

by Fred Kleynen

Last Wednesday's meeting was a joint meeting with the Woburn Club; it was a very well attended meeting in the form of a steak cook-out. The cooking was done by the Woburn gang and believe me it was a very tasty meal with real good steaks, corn on the cob, salad, beans (baked) coffee and bread and butter. Our hats are off to the Woburn boys for a "meal well done".

Saturday night the local club went to Woburn for the soft-ball game that was to be played under the lights at Library Field, but I guess the old fashioned drubbing we gave Woburn the last time must have been too much for them as our boys tell me that no one from the opposition even showed up therefore, Woburn take note, you have forfeited by default another game to Wilmington.

Zone chairman App has received a request from Lions International, thru the new District Governor Wendall Jones, for the list of all newly installed officers to be forwarded to him as soon as possible.

Didn't see any Bermuda shorts at the last cook-out meeting at App's last week (what happened Eddie?) no bet?

What's this about Pete C. going to have a mink farm on Park St.? Does Donnie enjoy this column today? (give you a vacation Don) Did Woburn enjoy the cook-out as well as our own members did? What would have happened if it had rained Wed. nite? How did Frankie and Johnnie make out?

See you next week,

Henry Morgan, the Peck's bad boy of T. V. will make a return personal appearance at Guy Palmerton's Lake Whalom Playhouse at Fitchburg during the week starting Monday, August 12th playing thru the following Sunday. The usual Wednesday matinee and evening performance will be omitted due to the star's appearance on "I've Got A Secret" in New York. Instead, there will be a matinee on Thursday and Saturday of that week.

The comedy "Father of the Bride" is a play for every member of the family. Children will be especially delighted with this great, hilarious event and special prices prevail for them at matinee performances.

Last year Mr. Morgan broke an all time record at the Whalom Playhouse and this year he is expected to do likewise.

Reservations for all performances may be made in advance by mail. The box office is open daily for information and reservations.

LARGEST POWER SHOVEL

The world's largest mobile power shovel, "The Mountaineer", which is used in coal stripping operations, stands as high as a 16-story building. It cost $2,500,000 to build and has 117 tons of nickel alloyed steel castings in its stressed components. Two railroad hopper cars can be filled with one scoop of its bucket which has a capacity of 90 tons.

The "juice" from a prime porterhouse steak may be a culinary delight but, contrary to popular belief, beefsteak doesn't do a thing to reduce the swelling from a black eye. The best cure for that swollen eye: Try cold compresses at once; after 24 hours, hot compresses. Early evasive battle action, suggest Murine Co. researchers, may eliminate the need for curative measures.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH MAKING PLANS FOR VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Preparations for what promises to be a most unique Vacation Bible School are reaching a climax as work crews of Wilmington Baptists are busily engaged in making alterations in Dr. Miriam Hosmer's barn at 173 Church St., where the school will be held, starting this coming Monday, Aug. 5. Leaders of the Vacation Bible School are very enthused over the location because it's going to fit in perfectly with the Western theme of the school, "Pioneering with Christ". Miss Lois Bennett, director and her enthusiastic staff, will have Dr. Hosmer's property which has been purchased by the First Baptist Church of Wilmington, as western as a Texas ranch.

The school is open to children and young people, ages 3-17 and will run daily Monday through Friday from 9:00 to 12:00 noon Aug. 5 through 16. There is no registration fee, but Miss Bennett requests that any child be registered in advance by calling Jack Moore, OL 8-2214.

The Vacation Bible School will get a big send-off this Saturday morning, August 3, with a western parade. Any boy or girl is invited to participate, dressed as a cowboy, or cowgirl or Indian and prizes will be awarded to the best costumes. Young people with horses are also invited to ride their mounts along with the many others who are already looking forward to it. The parade will begin at 10:00. The route will be from Dr. Hosmer's to Adelle St., to Middlesex Ave., to Main St., to Church St., and back to Dr. Hosmer's.

All young people are invited to participate in the parade and Bible School regardless of church affiliations.

Sunday evening, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a dedication of the teachers and workers of the Bible School, at the evening service. At the Sunday morning service, Mr. Jim Davis will preach and conduct the communion service in the absence of Pastor Elliot Castillo, who will be a guest of the American Baptist Convention at the "New Churches Conference" at the Baptist Assembly Grounds, Green Lake Wisconsin, August 3 to 10.

EYE-DEAL VISION

by Dr. Samuel Rosenfield

Vision is a very complex process and we have yet much to learn about it. Don't be surprised if I start off by telling you that we do not see with our eyes. We see through our eyes. Now you, the reader, may ask why I make such a big issue about these little words like "with", "in" and "through". I seem to be more technical than a Philadelphia lawyer, and besides, hairsplitting is not one of the popular virtues. And if we do not see with our eyes but through our eyes, then with what do we see with? We see our brains.

Seneca, a philosopher of ancient Rome, said: "Eyes will not see when the heart wishes them to be blind." Seneca made this statement figuratively, but there is much literal truth behind it.

From an anatomic standpoint the retina of the eye is an offshoot of the optic nerve which in turn is an outgrowth of the brain. Therefore good vision is not a simple matter of using the eyes for taking clear pictures like we do with a camera on Sunday afternoons. Good vision must be learned and can be developed, just as any other function of the brain is subject to learning and development. Eyeglasses are only one aspect of good vision, therefore as a practical matter it's important to realize that not all cases of poor vision can be helped by glasses.

In future articles we hope to point out how glasses help you towards better vision. You will also be interested in learning how the best glasses cannot help vision when disease strikes the eye structure or any part of the visual pathways in the brain. Most fascinating of all will be the occasional articles on the role of psychology in vision.

A doctor writing in Your Health magazine says that accident-prone people fall into three general groups: Those who deliberately take tremendous risks in fits of anger; those who are insecure or dissatisfied; and those who react to emergencies by flying off in all directions emotionally.

WILMINGTON GIRL CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY AT MELROSE HOSPITAL

Elizabeth MacFeeley, of Burnap St., has been a patient at Melrose Hospital now since May 31, when she suffered severe burns while working in Wakefield. "Honey" as she is known to her friends and family, is on the mend now and expected home soon.

During her "visit" in Melrose, "Honey" celebrated her nineteenth birthday as guest of honor at a gala party held in her hospital room. The hospital itself presented her with a gaily decorated birthday cake and allowed, for the occasion, more than the usual "two-guests-at-a-time". Many fine gifts were received and a fine time was enjoyed by all who attended.

OPTOMETRIST OPENS BURLINGTON OFFICE

Dr. Samuel Rosenfield, optometrist, formerly of Boston, has recently announced the opening of his practice at 94 Cambridge St. Burlington, next to the Economy Shopping Center.

Dr. Rosenfield is a graduate of English High School in Boston, and received his Bachelor of Science Degree at Northeastern University in 1946.

He studied at the University of Illinois and received his Doctor of Optometry degree from the Massachusetts College of Optometry in 1950.

His practical training includes the examination of countless patients at the Massachusetts Optometric Clinic, the Hull Street Methodist Settlement in the North End of Boston, the Hyde Park YMCA, Boston Evening Clinic, and the Boston Dispensary.

He maintained his Boston office for six years before coming to Burlington. His Burlington office is well equipped with the most modern equipment, including the new Bausch and Lomb Frame Bar, a modern approach in the presentation of fashionable eyewear.

Under this impressive array of instruments and equipment, one is tempted to ask the doctor which is the most important to him and to his service to the patient. His answer is quick. No instrument, he said, will ever replace an optometrist's education, training, practicable diagnostic sense, and viewing each patient as a person, not a problem in optics.

Maryanne Quandt Injured

Maryanne Quandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Quandt of Pershing St., received a broken elbow while vacationing with her family at Plum Island. The injury occurred when Miss Quandt dove into shallow water

Break and Entry At Jim's Variety Store

Police are using two pair of white work gloves, a screw driver and a pair of pliers found at the scene of a break in an attempt to track down the thieves.

Sometime around 3:00 a.m. on Wednesday, July 24, police discovered a break had been made at Jim's Variety Store at the corner of Shawheen Ave., and Hopkins St. Entry was gained through a window on the east side of the building on which the screen had been cut. The store had been ransacked and several valuable items were taken including, a flash camera, a watch and nine cartons of cigarettes. A total of the damage has not been reached.

Deputy Hoban is still investigating the incident.

Three Car Collision On Main St.

At approximately 5:10 p.m. on Tuesday, July 23, an accident involving three vehicles occurred at the junction of Main & Harnden Sts. The first vehicle, a truck being driven by Harold Bolton of Draut, the second a car being operated by Daniel McLaughlin of Tewksbury, and the third an automobile being driven by Carleen Smith of Hildreth St., Lowell.

All three of those involved indicated that a fourth vehicle, a Mercury sedan made a sudden left turn into Harnden St., from Main, causing Miss Smith to apply her breaks. When Miss Smith slowed her vehicle down, Mr. McLaughlin who was following also applied his breaks and the truck, skidded into the rear of Mr. McLaughlin's vehicle, pushing it into the rear of Miss Smith's car.

All three escaped without injury and only slight damage was done to the truck and the cars. Deputy Hoban and Officer Fuller investigated the accident.

300 ATTEND AND SEE FIRST-BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICE

Two hundred people were actually counted, and another one hundred people were estimated to be spectators at the Believers Baptismal Service of the First Baptist Church, Wilmington, Sunday, July 21, at "Mugford's Beach" on Silver Lake. The climax of the service was when Pastor Eliot Castillo led the group of candidates out into the waters of the Lake, and then, one by one, after receiving an affirmation of each candidate's belief in Jesus Christ as his own personal Lord and Saviour, baptized them by total immersion, "in the name of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit". Thus these candidates were baptized in a similar manner and by the same mode as the believers in the earliest days of the New Testament Church.

Prior to each candidates baptism, Jim Davis, former high school instructor and leader of the Wilmington "New Life Bible Club", led the lakeside congregation in the familiar and beloved hymn of confession and adoration, "Just As I Am". The candidates included Susan Hall of Linda Rd., Judy and Marion Halpin of High St., Sheila Pentz of Causeway Rd., Reading and Mrs. Bill Dietrich of Woburn St.

The service was opened with a song service led by the Pastor during which the congregation had an opportunity to sing their favorite hymns. Interspersed with the hymns were personal "testimonies for Christ" by members of the Wilmington Baptist Church including Ralph Flodin, Dottie Pike, Mrs. "Ce" Miller, and Mrs. Irene Castillo. Each of them spoke of the peace and joy in their hearts, the assurance of their salvation, and the realization of Christ's abiding presence with them since their receiving Jesus as their Lord and Saviour. The pastor gave his own personal testimony by singing a gospel favorite, "I'd rather Have Jesus Than Anything This World Affords Today".

The whole weekend was one of great inspiration for Wilmington Baptists. On Saturday evening 36 members and friends of the church attended the great Billy Graham New York Crusade meeting held at Yankee Stadium which was attended by over 100,000 with over 10,000 turned away because of the size of the crowd in the stadium. This by far was the greatest crowd that Yankee Stadium has ever accommodated since its opening in 1923, and undoubtedly is one of the greatest religious meetings in the history of this country. High points of the rally included the tremendous congregational singing of over 100,000 voices of two beloved hymns, "Blessed Assurance" and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" which caused the stadium to fairly tremble; the singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus," and the new Gospel favorite "How Great Thou Art" and "The Lord's Prayer" by the 4000 voice Crusade Choir under the direction of Cliff Barrows; two solos "The Wonder of It All" and "The Love of God" by George Beverly Shea; and a ten minute address by Vice-President Richard Nixon in which he extended President Eisenhower's personal greetings and also said that one of the basic reasons for America's greatness is her faith in God.

Then Billy Graham, the 38-year old evangelist whom God has raised up in these crucial times to proclaim God's plan of salvation through Jesus Christ spoke for about 40 minutes. In his message he attributed the success of the New York Crusade to God in response to the faithfulness of millions of praying Christians the world over and said that no man deserves any credit or glory, but God alone. Surveying the vast arena filled to overflowing, Mr. Graham said that many people were skeptical that Yankee Stadium could be filled by an evangelistic meeting, but he exclaimed, "The Lord filled it!" Billy said that such victories could be duplicated in every community in America where the churches would unite, as they have in New York City, and agree on a common task, to "Preach Christ and Him Crucified" for the salvation of the souls of men.

It was impossible to extend the usual invitation to "Accept Christ" as has been extended at Madison Square Garden for the past ten weeks, because of the press of the enormous crowd. But it was estimated that the number who either stood to register their decision, or if already standing, raised their hands, was well into the thousands according to the information on the Billy Graham Sunday evening radio broadcast at 10:30.

The Wilmington Baptists who attended, traveled by a rented bus. They left Saturday morning, July 20, at 9:30 and returned back to the Grange Hall at 6:00 o'clock Sunday morning. In spite of the heat and little sleep, everyone thanked God heartily for the great experience.

The executive committee of the New York Crusade said that the crusade would be extended another 3 weeks until August 10, because the impact of the crusade is just now being felt. Billy is pleading now for the redoubled prayer efforts of Christians everywhere that we might truly see "Revival in our Time".

The next event that Wilmington Baptist are looking forward to with great expectations is the opening of their Daily Vacation Bible School on Monday, August 5, at 9:00 a.m. at Dr. Hosmer's Middlesex Ave. The theme for the school which will be held Monday through Friday, August 5 to 16 is "Pioneering with Christ" and as the title implies, is being presented in a "western" setting. Wilmington Baptist are indeed happy that the grounds and buildings of Dr. Hosmer will be available, for they will add greatly to the theme.

Miss Lois Bennett, who is director of the Bible School, has announced that the Vacation Bible School is for children and young people, ages 3-17. There is no registration fee, but she requests that all children who will attend be registered in advance so that the necessary accommodations can be made. For registering a child, please call Jack Moore OL 8-2214 as soon as possible. This year's Bible School, like the one sponsored by the Baptists at the East Willington Improvement Hall last year, is open to any child of Wilmington and the surrounding areas and will include a full three-hour program of singing, handicrafts, stories and games.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

The weekly meeting of the Rotary Club was held last Wednesday, at noon, at the Masonic Hall with president John Gleason in charge.

After the usual opening ceremonies, the president called upon Henry J. Porter to offer the invocation.

After an enjoyable luncheon, the president called upon Adrian Durkee to introduce the visiting rotarians. The following were introduced: Charles Wilkinson, Walter Hopkins, Mell Garry, and Will Perkins all from Reading, Robert Cushman from Lexington, Pat Accettulle from North Reading, Din' Sinionde, Larry Chase from Winchester, and Andy Ogren, from Stoneham. Fred Cain introduced his guest John Fogelburg, Dr. Chernoff introduced his guest William Russell, and Charles Wilkinson introduced his grand-son Rich Pomfret.

The president called upon Herb Pickering to give a report on the coming clam bake. He reported that a good attendance was anticipated, and that plans were proceeding on schedule.

Henry Porter gave a report on the activity going on recently at the park and playground. John Nitchie supervised the dumping of ninety loads of fill on the grounds on July 21. Mr. Nitchie and the men who served him on that occasion, deserved and received a hearty thanks from the club members.

AS MY GARDEN SLEEPS

by Mari Gold

Today (Wednesday) is open house day at the Waltham Field Station. The hours are from 3:00 to 9:00 p.m. The professors will be on hand to answer any questions, and there should be many to ask after this unusual drought. I expect to pay them a visit too, so will probably be rubbing elbows
with some of my readers.
The field is located on Bever Street.

This is also the season for us to begin thinking about the local and county fairs.
Granges and other organizations are busy planning their fall activities. The first fair of the season is in Middleboro between August 4 and 10. Weymouth will hold its fair between August 11 and 17, and Marshfield, August
18 to 24. Our local Grange

Fair is not until September, so you will have plenty of time to work and cultivate your flowers and vegetables.
Of course, you plan on exhibiting some. The neighborhood competition adds zest to the affair. It is fun to enter a bouquet or a plate of vegetables against your neighbors.

The flower which appears
the greatest number of times
in the fall fairs is the Dah-lia. All Dahlias need four to five hours of sunshine each day. They respond best to open culture with abundant
air. A fair standard of fertility is required, but excessive richness is to be avoided or they will all go to stalk and leaves. The practice of dis-budding varies somewhat on the Dahlia shoot the top or terminal flower bud is the first to develop. It usually makes the finest flower. The other flowers are produced on side shoots from the axils

of the leaves which are paired. Fine flowers can be raised when a single stalk is left. They should be kept free from side shoots and half of the flower buds should be removed. This applies to all varieties, both the large and the dwarf types.

The countless modern varieties of Dahlias all derive from a handful of seeds that in 1787 was sent by a gardener, who at that time was in charge of the Botaruc Gardens of Mexico City, to a friend who was in charge of the Royal Gardens of Madrid. The old fashioned Dah-lia was like a honeycomb,
but did not reign very long as a sovereign, but gave way to its successors, the Cactus and Callarette types. The Cactus Dahlia became known in 1872, the origin of the plant is one of the mysteries of the gardening world. Beyond the fact that it came from Mexico, nothing seems to be known about it. So far as has been ascertained, it has not been found growing wild anywhere. The Honeycomb Dahlia grows wild in Mexico.

To folks with vegetable gardens who would like to exhibit, I will offer a few hints here. Do not pick the largest or the smallest vegetables, but the kind you would like to eat. Beet Tops

should be cut one half inch.
Do not cut the tap root. This also applies to carrots, turnips and parsnips. For potatoes, wipe them dry, do not wash. Onions, cut one inch, wipe clean. Do not peel. Cut off roots and remove the outer leaves of cabbage and cauliflower. Leave the stems on your squash and pumpkins. Take the stems off tomatoes. When exhibiting peppers, make an attempt to have the same number of lobes on each one. Each specimen should be as near alike as possible in color and size. They should be free from blemishes, cuts or insect injury.

If your lawn is well established, it will probably come back to normal as soon as we have rain. If it is a newly planted lawn, you may have to begin over again.
Now is the time to get rid of crab grass, while the lawn
is dried up and no fertilizer
until fall.

After a light rain in drought conditions, it is better not to cultivate, but to let the plants soak up what refreshment they can from the meager supply of water.
Don't allow weed seeds to ripen. Every seed that goes to seed means trouble for next year. Get weeds out of the ground before they ma-

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS

by Blanche W. Eames

Too Much of a Good Thing
Clear sunny skies are ideal for folks on vacation, and we have had many such days this summer. Picnics and other outdoor events have been held on schedule as planned with no thought of postponement because of rain. However it is possible to have "too much of a good thing," and this is true of the beautiful summer days
we have been experiencing.
The most casual observer
will notice the brown parched lawns and the dust that whirls up when walking across them. Only a few fortunate souls have been able to maintain green lawns.

and healthy flower gardens.

The long drought is particularly hard on farmers.
Even those with facilities
for irrigation are finding it difficult to provide adequate moisture for their growing things, and those without irrigation are faced with crop failure, and loss of income.

All of us, as consumers,
are affected by the drought,
too. Foods that are normally in plentiful supply and economically priced at this time of year are limited in quantity and consequently somewhat higher in price. Without adequate rainfall soon
we will all become more aware of the problems resulting from "too much of a good thing," - too many sunny days and too little rain.

Right now locally grown
green corn is in good supply.
This summer delicacy quickly loses its fresh picked sweetness unless it is rapidly chilled and kept cold. So when buying corn select ears, with green, crisp, fresh looking husks; and from iced or refrigerated displays
if possible. If you buy from a farm stand ask when the corn was picked. The shorter the time from picking to eating the better.

Expect to find the first native outdoor tomatoes on the market counters soon.
They are already available
at some farm stands.

The American Automobile
Association today listed five ways motorists can keep accidents from ruining their vacation trip.

These are the "Fatal Five"
which cause the majority of accidents, according to the AAA.

1. Stay within the speed limits. About one-third of all fatal accidents involve a speed violation.

2. Don't drink and drive,
or drink and walk on roadways. In about one-fourth of the fatal accidents a driver
or an adult pedestrian
has been drinking.

MISS WELLING BECOMES BRIDE

Miss Mary Welling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Welling of 10 Fay St., became the bride of Joseph Thomas Theil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton V. Theil of 31 Atlantic Ave., Saturday, July 27, at 10:00 a.m. at St. Thomas of Villanova Church. The altar of the church was adorned with white Gladiolus and Blue Floral Delphinium for the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Joseph Leahy. Such appropriate selections as Ave Marie, Mother at Thy Feet is Kneeling, The Bride's Prayer and the Prayer for a Perfect Life were offered.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was lovely in a white nylon gown, appliqued with white alencon lace, sequins and pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a stand-up crown of sequins and pearls. She wore white mitts and carried a colonial bouquet of sweetheart roses, carnations and blue floral delphinium.

Miss Patricia Welling, sister of the bride served as Maid-of-Honor in a ballerina length gown of sheer white nylon embroidered with yellow. She wore a yellow underskirt of net and taffeta and a matching headpiece with illusion veil. She carried a basket of blue delphinium and yellow marguerites and blue Delphinium as bridesmaids were Mrs. Rose Welling, of Woburn, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Margaret O'Riordan, of Lawrence, and Miss Elizabeth Mulcahy, of Malden, close friends of the bride. They were attired in ballerina length gowns of blue embroidered white nylon sheer over pastel blue taffeta net. They wore blue crowns with illusion veils and carried baskets of yellow phinium.

Mr. Anton V. Theil Jr., of Wilmington, served his brother as best man, while the ushering duties were performed by: Mr. Paul Theil, brother of the groom, stationed with the A.F. in Bermuda, Mr. James Welling of Woburn, brother of the bride, Mr. Edward A. Welling Jr., of Marabai, Venezuela, and Wellesey, brother of the bride and Mr. Richard A. Day of Tewksbury, close friend of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at Steakland in Danvers, where Miss Regina O'Connell, cousin of the bride, from Stoneham registered the guests. The mother of the bride was attired in a pale blue dress with chantilly lace bodice and chiffon skirt, with white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink tea roses. The mother of the groom chose for the occasion, a mauve dress of lace and chiffon with white accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

For the wedding trip to Florida, the bride chose a turquoise sheath linen dress with silk inserted yoke. She wore white accessories and a corsage of yellow feather carnations.

The new Mrs. Theil was educated in Wilmington Schools and received a Bachelor Degree from Salem Teacher's College in 1953 and a Ed. M. Degree from Boston University in 1956. She is a member of the Eastern Business Teachers Assoc. and the Mass. Teachers Assoc. and is presently employed as a member of the Business Education Dept., at Wilmington High School.

Mr. Theil was educated at Boston Trade and High School and is a Junior at Lowell Technological Inst. He is a member of the Newman Club, and the Knights of Columbus. He served for four years with the U.S. Navy having made a tour of duty in the Mediterranean and Germany.

WILMINGTON WINS IN FIRST ROUND OF PLAY-OFFS

Wilmington All-Stars won over the North Reading All-Stars 5 to 3 Saturday afternoon at the Wilmington L.L. Park.

North Reading's Williamson started off the scoring by blasting one out of the park with one on, but in the remaining innings North Reading succeeded in getting only 2 hits and one run off Wilmington Pitcher Williamson, who went the distance. In the 3rd, Wilmington's Kelmon smashed a double with one on, both hits driving in runs. The 3rd proved to be the big one for Wilmington with pitcher Williamson driving in 2 runs and MacMullen another, for a total of 5 runs on 4 hits. In the 4th and 5th Williamson allowed only one single and finished very strong by striking out the last North Reading man in the 6th. North Reading starting pitcher James was shelved in the 3rd with none out and relief artist Appertl came on to pull his team out of the inning and allowed only one hit and no runs for the balance of the game.

An excellent crowd turned out to watch this first game of the playoffs and was thrilled by a display of brilliant ball-handling and baseball ability by both clubs. In other games in the first round of the District tournaments Assabet Valley eliminated Concord by a score of 5 to 4, Woburn Nat'l beat out Wakefield Nat'l 2 to 0, Winchester Nat'l over Stoneham

Nat'l 16 to 2, Woburn Am., 6, Lexington Nat'l, 1; Winchester Am., 6, Lexington Am., 5, and the game scheduled between Wakefield American and Stoneham Am. postponed to Monday night. By eliminating North Reading, Concord, Wakefield Nat'l, Stoneham Nat'l, and both Lexington team, the field narrowed to Wilmington, Burlington, Assabet Valley, two Woburn teams, two Winchester teams, Wakefield Am. and Stoneham Am. By the time this printing reaches the public Wilmington and the other District teams will have played the 2nd and 3rd rounds and the field will be down to only two teams, who will play off at the August 2nd finals.

NICKEL-PLATED PROPELLERS

Aluminum and hollow steel airplane propellers are now being plated with nickel to give them longer life. Nickel-plating was first used on seaplane propellers for greater resistance to erosion and corrosion from salt water. Later the hard nickel-plating was found to provide good resistance to abrasion from gravel and other debris encountered by land-based aircraft.

PLYWOOD RANCH OPENS BRANCH

Plywood Ranch, New England's only plywood specialists, open a branch in Billerica.

Located at 722 Boston Rd. on Rt. 3-A, the Billerica super store will feature free parking for 50 cars, easy drive-in loading and self service. Like the Belmont store it will stock over 50 woods from all parts of the world.

The Ranch is noted for its variety of woods. From Oregon, Washington, and Calif., come fir plywoods, primarily for structural use in homes and boats. From South and Midwest come many of its materials for cabinet and decorative use.

Plywood Ranch brings New England the exotic and unusual by shopping in the market places of the world for new concepts in wall panelling. The connoisseur will find unusual woods whose logs have been hand-crafted to create works of art with distinctive grain patterns. Some of the panels include diamond grain mahogany, bookmat ched teak, checkerboard sen.

"Plywood is our business" emphasized Charles Rosen and Fred Stiles, proprietors of the Ranch. "We stock just about every species and in many sizes. You will find also all the accessories for plywood: glues, finishes, wooden and metal legs, doors, mouldings, cabinet hardware. Two plastics are a growing part of Plywood Ranch: Micalite, the miracle counter top material and Structoglas, the corrugated wonder plastic for patio roofs awnings and partitions. The only lumber we carry is knotty pine panelling, strap-ping, pine shelving, clear pine, 2x3 and 2x4. Plywood Ranch is not a lumber yard. We are plywood specialists.

Our opening in Billerica follows an expansion here in Belmont with the addition of a larger warehouse. Both this new Belmont warehouse and the Billerica operation were literally forced on us. This overall expansion by Plywood Ranch is proof that New England not only likes what we sell but likes our low prices.

"Most important we pledge ourselves to this: the old Plywood Ranch trademarks . . . free expert advice, customer selection guaranteed, convenient opening hours, and the friendly Ranch welcome will remain with the company as it grows."

DROUGHT AFFECTS POULTRY RANGE

by Robert M. Grover

Egg producers who have looked to poultry range for supplementary feed in their replacement growing programs, are sharing with other local farmers in difficulties caused by the current drought. Good range pasture, which can normally mean upwards of ten percent in feed cost savings, is no longer anything better than an exercise yard in most cases.

It is advisable therefore, that poultrymen check flock that birds are showing proper development. This is particularly important where so-called controlled feeding programs are being followed.

Continued hot dry weather also makes it necessary to provide additional waterers on the range. Domestic poultry refuse to travel long distances for necessary drinking water if temperatures are uncomfortably warm. Although the poultry industry is not generally considered as one which suffers adversely from crop shortages of a local nature, the above considerations point out that no phase of agricultural production escapes untouched.

EFFECT OF DRY WEATHER ON APPLES

by Max G. Fultz

Summer apples face a doubtful future as this is written, due to loss in size by the dry weather and to serious hail damage in some areas. Summer varieties furnish a more substantial percentage of the apple crop of the area than is generally believed.

Yellow Transparents and Duchess are the earliest varieties and we have been very agreeably surprised at the size of some of the fruit of some larger plantings in spite of lack of moisture. Good thinning practice and pruning out the trees during the dormant season has been of much help. The practice of fertilizing in the spring while the moisture supply was sufficient to take up the plant food helps greatly. Such effect this year was delayed by an earlier dry spell in the early spring, but subsequent rains occurred to take up the fertilizer.

Early McIntosh and Gravenstein, the two leading summer varieties, are in almost the same position as later apples. Growers who can, are applying water to Early McIntosh trying to keep the moisture uniform. Quick changes in amounts of water can easily cause splitting to which the variety is susceptible. Hand thinning has been used substantially to supplement chemical thinning. The latter in itself was not too generally effective. Gravenstein size is at the point where it needs extra moisture to give the final push needed.

McIntosh and later varieties hang in the balance. They are at a standstill at this point, but they have a long time to go and good rains would cause a rapid come-back. Such varieties have stood other dry periods and finished in good production. All depends on all important rain, and that it comes in time.

CORPS OF MILITARY POLICE

This week we salute the Corps of Military Police - the law enforcement and traffic control agency of the Army. When the troops are on the move, the MP is always present to control the flow of traffic and speed the troops on their way. On the field of battle, the Miltary Police guard the rear areas and the Prisoners of War. On military installations, the Military Police perform the same function as that performed by their civilian counterparts in our cities. In the large cities and in small towns surrounding our military installations, the MP is present to protect the rights of our servicemen and to keep them out of trouble. He will apprehend a serviceman who breaks the law, but his primary mission in town is to keep a soldier out of trouble.

A young man thinking of a career in law enforcement can obtain the best training in the world in this field through an enlistment for duty with the Corps of Military Police.

NO ONE BATS A THOUSAND

A few years ago, one of our national leaders admitted that he often made mistakes. "No one ever bats a thousand percent," he said.

It is true; isn't it? No one ever gets a perfect score in life. But many of us go through life blaming ourselves because we do not.

I saw a statement some time ago, in the report of a large oil company, that during the past year, their engineers had drilled one hundred and one wells. Only twenty-six of them yielded even a barrel of oil. The rest were "dry wells."

But they called this a highly successful average.

How often we have known frustration and disappointment because our plans did not work out.

One thing we should remember: that the best ball players hit about one time in three. For years Babe Ruth led the league in home runs. But during those same years, he led the league in the number of times when he struck out.

You and I will often know failure; people will disappoint us; plans will not work out.

But remember this: If we

WILMINGTON ALL-STARS BEAT BURLINGTON 6-4

Wilmington's Little League All Stars came from behind Monday evening to edge out the Burlington All-Stars by a final score of 6 to 4. Wilmington now is eligible to who beat the Woburn Nationals 4 to 1 in a last minute rally.

The tying and tiebreaking runs were the results of Burlington errors. Five were scored during the game. Complete totals, Wilmington, 6 runs, 7 hits and 1 error; Burlington, 4 runs, 6 hits and 5 errors.

Pitching for Wilmington, Jim MacMullin, while Mike Farrell caught. Eddie Nolan pitched the first 4 2/3 innings for Burlington with John Murray finishing.

High spots of the game were the stolen bases of Tommy Grant. The first run scored was the result of his stealing home. Altogether he stole three times. Ken Sugarman also starred, getting 2 for 2.

Burlington took an early lead, partly the results of sloppy infielding. MacMullin settled down in the third and from then on it was Wilmington game, the fifth and sixth seeing the opponents go down 1-2-3.

The All Stars will play the Assebet Valleys tonight at 5:30 at Little League park and if crowds for these games are any indication, it should be hard to find a place to stand. Good luck, boys.

ST. DOROTHY'S ANNOUNCEMENTS

ST. THOMAS CYO CONCLUDES SEASON BY WINNING TWO OUT OF THREE

St. Thomas' CYO, Wilmington's only organized Junior team, defeated St. Patrick's of Stoneham, 9-5 and St. Margaret's of Burlington, 5-1; then bowed to league-leading St. Mary's of Melrose, 9-6 in the season's finale.

In the St. Patrick's fray, Joe Peters doubled in the first inning with the bases loaded to get the home team away to an early lead. Steady pitching and good fielding kept St. Patrick's on the short end despite seven hits.

Against St. Margaret's of Burlington, Johnny McCabe scattered five hits in going the route. Fred McAndrews, Al McDonald and Bill Ethier had two hits against the offerings of Jim Page.

In the last game against St. Mary's of Melrose, the locals had no one to blame but themselves, as they gave away five unearned runs. They collected only five hits against three Melrose pitchers.

The locals thus ended the season with a record of six wins, seven losses and one tie to finish fourth in the CYO standing. This year's club was almost new, having only three veterans from last year's title winners. Towards the end of the schedule they began to reflect the many practice sessions that feature John Kenney's coaching. Joseph Peters, Sr. was the scorer and Fr. Regan the director.

CHANGE PERMITS SOME BENEFITS IN VA CASES AND ALSO EXTENDS FILING TIME IN ALL DISABILITY CASES

Miss Ethel Eliopoulos, district manager of the Lowell social security office said today that a long-disabled worker now has until June 30, 1958 to file an application for the "disability freeze" and still have his social security earnings recorded protected as of the date he actually became disabled.

She said also that the law now permits a veteran to receive compensation from the Veterans Administration for service-connected disability without any reduction in the amount of his disability insurance benefits under social security. These changes became effective when President Eisenhower signed P.L. 109 on July 17, 1957.

The purpose of the "disability freeze" is to prevent those years during which a severe and indefinite disability keeps a person out of work from counting against him. A person cannot qualify for the "freeze" unless, in addition to meeting disability requirements, he has worked for at least five years under social security and for 1 1/2 years during the 3-year period just before his disability began.

Until the July 17, change in the law, a period of disability could not be determined to have begun earlier than 12 months before application for the freeze, unless the application was made before the end of June 1957. For this reason, a disabled person who failed to make his claim before the end of June, and who had become disabled before January 1, 1955, would have lost his rights to have his social security record frozen because he could not possibly meet the work requirements.

The law, as now amended, gives those who were disabled before January 1, 1955, until June 30, 1958, to file an application for the disability freeze to protect their rights to old-age, survivors, or disability insurance.

County OfficialsStart Survey
Of West Street

ST.

Work started Monday on the survey of West St., that is the first step in plans to straighten and widen one of the worse corners in Wilmington.

County engineers started working from Lowell toward Woburn St. The street at this point is so bad that residents of the area go a mile out of the way rather than take West St.

Another bad curve on the Reading side of Lowell St., is expected to be straightened as a result of work on the proposed Rte. 28.
